Description of the activity

If a teacher wants to give instructions during the class, it is fundamental to learn students some phrases because students have to understand the instructions.

I had made a short list of basic instructions and brought them to the class. I wrote the instructions one by one on the board, read them aloud and told students to rewrite them into their exercises books. Then I gave the instructions to the students and they had to follow them – it was the practical part of the activity.

Bellow, there is the list of the instructions:
